Kiss Me Mascara

We can't live without it but there are so many things we hate about mascara. I for one hate the fact that it can look clumpy, it stings when you accidentally rub it into your eyes and it can run at the worst possible times. And then I was sent a sample of "Kiss Me Mascara" and I could only hope that this would be different. First of all, it comes from a 200 year plus company in Japan, Kiss Me Cosmetics. The difference with this mascara is that forms tiny tubes around each lash. The tubes are released with water and gentle pressure. They literally slide off your lashes.

So, here is what I thought of it...

- very easy to apply
- did not take very long to produce long dark lashes
- stays put nicely and does not smear if you mistakenly rub your eye
- washed my face and nothing happened. Mascara stayed in place. It took two washings for the mascara to lose its hold on my lashes. This mascara really does have staying power.
- cost for this mascara... $20.00
