make-up makeover

Hands up! How many of you still have the dregs of a lipstick you've treasured since you were old enough to buy make-up? Or the remains of an eye-shadow that you bought when Charlene and Scott were still the hottest on-screen couple? While it's easy to become rather attached to a select few products, have you ever thought about how unhygienic - not to mention unfashionable - it is?

Black mascara like the excellent Kiss Me Mascara, £15 from Pout will never go out of fashion and a black or brown liner is also a safe bet most seasons. Try Givenchy Eye Pencil, £10.50 or Bourjois Kohl Pencil, £3.95. While blue shadow may enjoy its brief flirtations with style, it doesn't exactly fall into the "classic" category, so opt instead for more understated, neutral shades which are sure to last their two year shelf life. Our current faves are Stila Eye Shadow in Sun, £12.50, Ruby & Millie Eye Color in 800, £9 and No7 Colour Perfect Shadow in Wheatsheaf, £4.75.
